FLYNN TO HAVE CHARGE OF R. R. POLICE

New York, Sept. 15.—William J. Flynn, for more than twenty years in the United States Secret Service until his retirement as its chief at the beginning of this year, was notified yesterday of his designation by William C. McAdoo as head of the Railroad Administration Detective Force, having jurisdiction over all the railroads in the nation. He will be sworn in for the work on next Wednesday, and will at once take up the problems of protecting the greatest merged railway system in the world.

Except for six months in 1910-1911, when Mr. Flynn reorganized the Detective Bureau of the New York Police Department with the rank of Second Deputy Police Commissioner, his connection with the Secret Service had been continuous from 1897 until last January. He was appointed chief of the service in 1912, which position he resigned because of friction between his department and the Department of Justice.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Many of the American soldiers sent to Russia speak the Russian language. Men of Russian ancestry and familiar with Russian customs were selected for the purpose of giving the Russian people the truth concerning the part this country is taking in the war against German autocracy. Great Britain and France also have sent men in sympathy with the Russian citizenry.

HORSES AGAIN IN VOGUE SUNDAY

Boston, Sept. 16.—But few automobiles were seen along the highways of this part of the state yesterday, the third "kassless" Sunday since the request of the federal fuel administration that gasoline be conserved by the elimination of Sunday auto-riding. As a matter of fact, it was the quietest of the three Sundays along the roads leading to the North and South shores as well as along the boulevards leading into the suburbs and country.

Users of automobiles coming into the city by way of Mattapan were held up by officers of the Metropolitan Police. Up to press time one arrest had been made in that district and that was on a charge of oversteering.

Again the owners of livery stables did a good business because the weather was good and many people availed themselves of the opportunity of taking a ride into the country before the weather gets too cold.

CELEBRATED HER 18th BIRTHDAY

Native of Newington Receives Many Callers at Her So. Berwick Home.

The spacious home of Mrs. Maria Louise Ricker of South Berwick was the scene of a joyous gathering today. It was the occasion of Mrs. Ricker's eighteenth birthday, and the relatives and friends had assembled to do honor to her natal day.

Mrs. Ricker is the second daughter of this late Frederick William deRoche of Newington, who was for so many years a well-known figure on the streets of Portsmouth where his activity won him many patrons in the insurance business, while his charming personality gained him a multitude of friends.

The fourth of a family of ten children, including five boys and five girls, Mrs. Ricker was born in Demerara, British Guiana, So. America. She came to this country when but three years of age. Her family settled in Newington where all of her early life was spent. After her marriage to Shipley W. Ricker she moved to South Berwick which has been her home ever since.

She alone survives of the detachment of daughters, while the sons still live. Two of these, Frederic William and Clarence M. reside in Newington where the last named occupies the old family home. The other survivors and youngest child, Herbert, is in the West.

Her honored father's mantle of insurance success seems to have fallen upon this daughter's shoulders. For years her husband was in the insurance business and when he became crippled by rheumatism Mrs. Ricker assumed the entire charge of the clerical work. After his death at the request of his companies she took over the entire control of the business and has since conducted the business with marked success.

She is the oldest agent of both of the companies that she represents. Despite the down-pour of the night and the early morning, a joyous company gathered at the Ricker home about noon. They came by auto and trolley to partake of the birthday dinner, which formed the centre of the festivities. The gathering of these relatives was an entire surprise to the fair hostess whose keen enjoyment was only enhanced thereby.

The guests present were: From Newington, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence deRoche and daughter, Margherita, and Mr. and Mrs. P. W. deRoche, from Portsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Allen deRoche, Mrs. Sophia Pickering and daughter, Miss Nellie; Mrs. John Shannon—the prime mover of the occasion—and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gardner, also Mrs. Lydia Gray of Stratham and Mrs. Henrietta Brackett of Greenland, N. H.

Of Mrs. Ricker's six children, three daughters are living. Two of these, Annie L. of Melrose, Mass., and Jennie of South Berwick were present.

With the guests came many gifts of fruit, rare flowers and other articles which brightened the rooms and gladdened the heart of the recipient. Many others from nearby townspeople added their cheer of autumn color to the scene. As night approached and by groups the guests wandered their way homeward, all agreed that the period of eight decades had "touched" but slightly the person of the honored hostess. They had allayed the hair, but not quenched the spirit of her dark eyes. They had not lessened her grasp on and her interest in the affairs of the world. That while with activity and vigor still directing the affairs of

DOVER

Dover, Sept. 15.—Complete returns from the draft registration of Thursday show the total number in Stratford county to be 4471. The government's estimate of the number anticipated during this registration was 4073 thus showing the registration to be 398 more than was estimated and making an over-registration in the county of 4 per cent.

Dover's corrected total registration is 1675 whereas the estimate for this city was 1307, making an over-registration in Dover of 22 per cent which was material in maintaining the high average for the county.

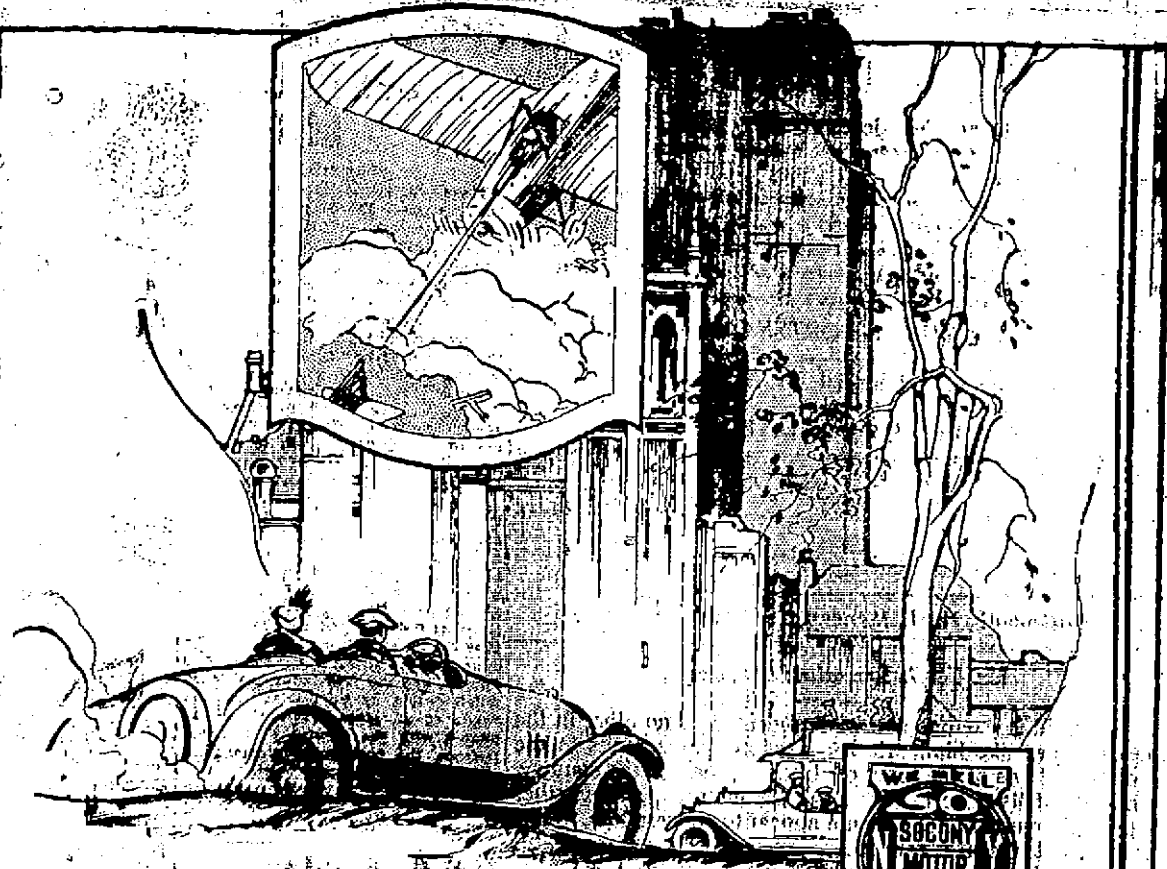

Of this total registration in the county 3098 are citizens, 269 are aliens who have already declared their intentions of becoming citizens and have taken out their first papers and the balance of 503 are aliens who have up to the present manifested no intention of becoming citizens. The percentage of citizens when compared with the figures in other districts of the state is a most creditable showing as 82 per cent of the total population liable for registration are citizens.

A call was received by Chairman Whittemore of the local draft board Saturday for 79 men qualified for general military service to enlist from this city for Camp Devens during the five day period beginning October 7. The exact date on which the men will depart is not available at this time but will of necessity be between Oct. 7 and Oct. 12.

This is the largest call which has ever been received in Stratford county during the war activities, the largest previous call being for 73 men who left Dover in June of 1918, the call for New Hampshire is for 774 men. According to the figures as they have been arranged by the officials at Concord, Stratford county will supply the third largest quota in the state, Manchester No. 2, being called upon for 96 and Grafton county for 93.

The call also specifies that class 1 men who registered on June 5 of last year shall be exhausted first and the men from the June 5 registration of 1918 shall be called upon to make up this quota.

Next Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock the ceremony will take place of dedicating the memorial tablets that have been placed on a boulder in the Old Burial ground on Chapel street. These tablets are to mark the burial spot of the remains of Maj. Richard Walderline, who was slain in the massacre by the Indians June 28, 1682, at which time the whole settlement here, in the center of the city, was nearly wiped out. The boulder may not be on the exact spot, but it is certainly near the spot, and the beautiful tablets will always stand as a memorial to the old hero's honor, for future generations to look at, and be reminded who he was and what sort of a man he was. This event will be the culmination of what has long been talked of having done in the memory of the men who knew him or of those who were familiar with the traditions of those who knew him.

SO-CO-NY gasoline gives you so many extra miles per gallon that the saving you effect over the use of inferior gasoline will help our aviators and all our forces over there. ## SEC. DANIELS COMMENDS NAVAL OFFICER

Washington, Sept. 15.—Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, has highly commended Commander W. C. Asserson, U. S. N., and Lieutenant Commander Richard P. McCullough, U. S. N., for excellent performance of duty on representations made by the British Admiralty.

In one of his reports, Vice Admiral Sims forwarded a letter written by Rear Admiral H. S. Grant of the Royal Navy, commending Commander Asserson for his work on the occasion of the collision between two convoys on the night of July 4 and also for his prompt action in towing a Norwegian steamship and four motor launches to the Quigleys from another vessel.

Secretary Daniels has commended Commander Asserson for his excellent performance of duty.

Commander Asserson is a native of Virginia, born on Aug. 21, 1878, and when appointed to the Naval Academy in 1895 was a citizen of New York. His wife, Mrs. Inebella P. Asserson, resides in Washington.

The British Admiralty, under date of August 4, forwarded to Vice Admiral Sims a letter in which special commendation was made of the action of the U. S. S. Lydonia, and its commander when an enemy submarine attacked a British steamship on May 8.

Secretary Daniels, has accordingly highly commended the commanding officer of the Lydonia, at that time, Lieutenant Commander McCullough, for his promptness of action on that occasion, and for his co-operation with this quota.

CARD OF THANKS IN DEAD SOLDIER'S POCKET

A powder-stained postcard with a ragged bullet hole through the top told the story of Corp. Harry Hill's appreciation.

Mrs. Francis Scherer of Newton has kept hundreds of American soldiers in France supplied with "smokes." Invariably she has received letters and cards of acknowledgment from the men. Yesterday she received the following letter from Maj. R. M. Johnston, general headquarters staff, enclosing the bullet pierced postcard:

"I send you this card, which will show you that some of our boys who fail to acknowledge the kindness of people at home are prevented by the best of all reasons. The poor fellow evidently had this in his pocket when the bullet came that was marked off for him. I picked it up in the Belgian wood after the splendid Marine brigade had driven the Germans out."

"Yours very truly,

Mr. Ford's Remarkable Program.

Mr. Ford is a remarkable man and there is no other in the country just like him. He has risen from the ranks to the position of one of the foremost business men of the country, and one of its richest. His ideas are his own; and whether they are popular or not does not appear to concern him. While it is possible that there are other men of the same name, it can be truthfully said that there is only one Henry Ford.

Mr. Ford is now a candidate for the United States Senate, and, utterly unlike most of the candidates in this age, he is going to leave his case entirely in the hands of the people. This he stated the other day to a correspondent in Washington, which city he visited on business with the government, but while there he did not mix with the politicians at all. His conduct was anything but that of an office seeker, and he declares that he is not an office seeker. He has been nominated for the Senate and is ready to serve in that body if the people of Michigan see fit to elect him, but says he will not spend a dollar or make any campaign for election. If the people want his services they will elect him, and that is all there is to it, so far as Mr. Ford is concerned. Not only will he spend no money himself, but if others get into the campaign and make expenditures in his behalf they will never be reimbursed, he declares. Asked if he wanted to be a senator from Michigan, he answered: "Not unless the people of the state want me so much that they will absolutely demand me, and show their demand for me in spite of the fact that I do not make a campaign."

Here is a new deal, widely at variance with the practices of the present day, with which all are familiar. It carries the mind back to a time when the office sought the man, and not the man the office.

It is possible, however, that Mr. Ford is drawing the lines a little too tight. While the profuse expenditure of money and the manufactured hullabaloo that attend many campaigns are to be deplored, there are legitimate campaign expenses to the meeting of which there can be no reasonable objection, nor is it improper for a candidate to meet the voters and express his convictions to them, face to face.

The proper course seems to lie between Mr. Ford's program and the practice which has become so common, and in many cases tiresome. Over-campaigning is apt to beget indifference on the part of the voters, and that is a bad thing. Yet it is only proper that the arguments in favor of any candidate should be properly presented, something which can be done without undue excitement and expense.

Mr. Ford's position is dignified, to say the least. Through no effort on his part he has been nominated for a high office, and he now says if the people want his services in that office it is their business to elect him. It is an unusual situation and the outcome will be awaited with exceptional interest in all parts of the country.

Still comes the call for more workers at the Red Cross rooms. All are aware of the importance of the work done by this great and beneficent organization, and every woman who can possibly lend a hand should do so in the proud consciousness that thus she is helping to win the war that is being waged for the freedom of all mankind.

A lieutenant in the flying corps who recently flew into Germany was perfectly willing to walk out, and he did so, covering 800 miles to Switzerland on foot after escaping from his captors. Notwithstanding the flying machine and the auto, there still are circumstances under which hiking has its uses.

New Hampshire College is soon to open for the regular work of the year. It is probable that the attendance will be somewhat lessened by the war, as is the case with all colleges, but as this institution is open to women as well as men there is sure to be a reasonable amount of work for the faculty.

The Boy Scouts of Rhode Island are in luck. By the will of a wealthy resident they are made the beneficiaries of a trust fund of something like $300,000, half of which may be used for the erection of a building. And the boys may be trusted to prove worthy of this generous consideration.

Whale meat is said to be good eating, but circumstances alter cases. There was nothing tempting about the carcass that floated ashore the other day at the Isles of Shoals, and the crew at the life-saving station found it necessary to dispose of it as a matter of protection.

Because of reduced majorities for the Republicans the Maine Democrats are claiming that the recent election was a victory for them. A sort of German victory, as it were.

CONSTRUCTION IS CURTAILED IN STATE

There will be no more unnecessary building where the construction totals $2,500 or more in New Hampshire during the period of the war. The State Committee on Public Safety has been made the arbiter as to the necessity or non-necessity of any construction by the War Industries Board. The Executive Committee received notice of the new ruling Saturday, and this afternoon (Monday) a plan for carrying out the orders was considered at a special meeting called by Chairman John B. Jameson. This is in line with the efforts at Washington to put all business of the nation on a war basis and of making all men work or fight.

Recently, in Salt Lake City, the Utah Council of Defense protested the construction of a theatre building, and the matter was carried to the Council of National Defense, and the Employment Service. As a result of this the Employment Service, the Council of National Defense, and the War Industries Board all telegraphed Salt Lake approving the action of the Utah State Council, and the War Industries Board followed this up by placing in the hands of all state organizations affiliated with the Council of National Defense, the problem of stopping all unnecessary building costing more than $2,500. The War Industries Board will back up the action of the Public Safety Committee.

BREAK ON WEST STREET SATURDAY NIGHT

The house of Allen G. deRoche on West street, was broken into on Saturday night by the "Saturday night" burglar, and a gold watch, ring and a revolver was taken.

The break was made some time before nine o'clock when the family were away, and it was discovered when they returned at 9 o'clock. The entrance was gained through a rear window which had been left unlocked and the thief devoted his entire time apparently to one room. From under a pillow he took a revolver and from a dressing table a watch and a ring.

Later it is supposed that the same fellow attempted a break at the house across the street occupied by Mr. Tibbitts. The family heard somebody trying the door, but when they went to the door the person had disappeared.

The police were called and made a search of the entire neighborhood, but failed to find any trace of the thief. No other breaks were reported during the night.

ABLE ADDRESS TO THE ENLISTED MEN

Rev. Hollis S. Tuttle conducted the service and gave the address at the meeting for enlisted men on Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. building. It was one of the largest attended meetings of the season, every seat was filled and extra ones brought in, while late comers sat on the stairs or stood in the rear of the room.

The meeting opened at five o'clock with a praise service led by Rev. Mr. Tuttle and in which the men joined heartily. An additional pleasing feature of this part of the service was a violin solo, "Haverly" by Fahre, rendered by Mr. Rohde, and a duet solo by Mr. Damm, both members of the Naval Band. Miss Flora H. Dimick ably presided at the piano.

Rev. Mr. Tuttle's able talk was "A Challenge to Soldiers of the Republic of God." He based his address on the sixteenth chapter of Matthew, beginning at the twenty-first verse.

"What shall a man be profited if he should gain the whole world and forfeit his life?" Many a man the speaker said, is finding his life today by losing his physical life. He quoted from a miller who said in the nineteenth century Christ made the world a neighborhood, but the twentieth century will make it into a brotherhood. Mr. Tuttle said at present the brotherhood seemed a long way off and yet the fires of war are burning down barriers, for note the very independence of all races with seven-eighths of mankind in war.

The alternatives, the speaker said, are brotherhood or the hell of continuous war, and the crisis challenges the soldier of the Republic of God. This wonderful body of ours is in the hands of the enemy of the soul of man. Mr. Tuttle said, and quoted Bergson, the French philosopher, who in substance says that the chief work of science has been to enlarge man's body. Man's only salvation, the speaker said, is in growing a soul big enough for the great body.

In speaking of the growth of the body, Rev. Mr. Tuttle tells first of locomotion and tells of the speed with which one can travel now with the locomotive, the steamship, the automobile, then of the big guns extending nine miles from two feet to 25, 30 or even 70 miles. He referred to the telescope and microscope giving man the power of extra sight and next spoke of the telegraph and telephone making it possible for man to hear from far in a short time. He next spoke of flying machines and impressed upon his hearers what science has done and then said, "What about the soul?"

The question comes today, he said, are the soldiers to have a soul big enough for the great body. Let a man say "I'll be a soul man; first and last and all the time." If the speaker said, any of you men never believed in religion before, you ought to now as soldiers and sailors in the United States service, as that is what you are fighting for.

Following the service a Fellowship Lunch of sandwiches, coffee and apples was served by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Middle Street Baptist church, Miss Lottie Bailey being in general charge.

Clara Nelson Moses

Clara Nelson Moses a native of Portsmouth, died recently at Worley Sanitarium, St. Augustine, Florida. The Palm Beach Post has the following obituary:

A gloom has been cast over the community by the passing of Clara Nelson Moses, wife of Wallace H. Moses, pioneer realty dealer of West Palm Beach, which occurred at the Worley sanitarium in St. Augustine at five o'clock Thursday morning. She had been a sufferer for several years, but the first intimation that her end was near was when, on the preceding Sunday, she especially thanked her doctor and nurse for their kindnesses. So suddenly did her life terminate that neither her husband or children were present at the moment, her husband being in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Moses was born at Portsmouth New Hampshire, seventy years ago but her youth was spent in Boston. In 1875 Mr. and Mrs. Moses removed to Florida, where they homesteaded on the Indian river, and remained some ten years, afterwards moving to Sanford, where they resided eight years. Twenty-five years ago they came to this city, at a time when Albert Roberts, whose father was at one time ambassador to Turkey, had what was perhaps, the only building, to land office, on what is now the site of the city, and the two formed a partnership in handling the lands of the railway company as well as other properties, at which work Mrs. Moses soon became proficient. She was a woman of high principles and proved a most important factor in the business transacted by her husband, and even after the latter had retired from active work her services were frequently in demand upon important matters.

Here was a fine, staunch character; sensible, kindly, and sympathetic. A host of friends will find the world less bright without her.

Her body was laid to rest yesterday in Woodlawn cemetery.

Surviving her, beside her husband, is her son, Elwyn N. Moses; her daughter, Mrs. Joel Dean, of Jacksonville, and her sister, Mrs. Ella N. Haskell of Palm Beach, besides numerous grandchildren.

Mrs. William Mitchell.

DIED FROM OVERWORK IN FRANCE

(By Associated Press)
Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Myron Herrick, wife of United States Ambassador Herrick, in France in 1911, died today after a lingering illness as a result of the overwork and strain during the first rush of the German invasion. She was 60 years of age.

GREAT NEED OF ARMY NURSES

Washington, Sept. 15.—Dental of recently published reports that the nursing needs of the army had been met, was made today by Brigadier General Charles Richard, Acting Surgeon General, who stated that 25,000 nurses must be obtained before the end of the year.

"Although the Red Cross, the nurse reserve of the army, reports a total enrollment of more than twenty-seven thousand nurses," General Richard said, "this does not represent the number of women available for active service. A total of 25,000 nurses must be obtained before the first of the year. More than sixteen thousand are now on the rolls of the Army Nurse Corps, leaving 9,000 still to be obtained. It is estimated that before July 1 next we must have 60,000."

General Richard said the thing the army medical department fears is that nurses, believing there no longer is urgent need for them, will cease enrolling, and that young women will not make application for admittance to the army school. A continued effort must be made by the Red Cross to enroll women if the needs of the army are to be supplied, he said.

ATLANTICS PLAY GREAT BALL AT LYNN

The Atlantic Corporation baseball team defeated the strong Cornets team of Lynn on Saturday afternoon by the score of 10 to 2. The winners of the local Sunset League seemed to have their batting eye with them on Saturday and they pounded two of the best pitchers the Lynn team had, getting fourteen hits. Parent, got three hits, one a three base slam, and Pierrotti got two hits.

The Athletics played fast ball and the Lynn team, which is considered one of the strongest in that section, did not have a lookin. Parent, in addition to hitting, played a fine game at short. Pierrotti pitched a good game, allowing but three hits, and Bailey caught him well.

AUTO OWNERS DISLIKE SUNDAY NO RIDE ORDER

The third Sunday of the ban on automobile driving except for very necessary business, was even more of a success than the previous Sundays and while there were still some who persisted in setting up their own selfish interest ahead of the government, they were in the great minority. The general travel through this city was very light, in fact at times there was no auto travel at all.

This was evident at the Portsmouth bridge toll gate, where at times there were considerable lulls between machines, where as the ordinary Sunday sees a continuous procession of cars. There is no question but what the regulation is unpopular and at the same time unfair to the little fellow. Sunday is the one day in the week that hundreds of owners of automobiles have to themselves so that they can enjoy the use of their car. They are responding nobly to the request of the Fuel Commission, but to a man they are for the issuance of gasoline cards, so that the rich as well as the poor may be affected. They claim that with a card allowing them so much gasoline a week, they can make a great saving, and still have the use of their cars on their one day in the week.

The order has brought the horse once more into prominence, and Sunday there were a good number out driving. The members of the Country Club to get back and forth to the house, used carriages and bicycles. The order has practically killed the late summer business at the summer resorts, for at this time of the year the transient business is the only thing left.

SOLDIERS BUILD HOUSE IN DAY

New Hampshire College, Sept. 14.—The carpentry and concrete sections of the vocational unit of the S. A. T. C. here are building today a farm machinery building approximately 60 by 20 ft. and will finish the building completely in the one day. Frequent photographs are being taken to show the rate of progress made and those in charge are confident that the structure will be ready for occupancy by sunset. This building is one of several that have been built here by the soldiers this summer, and another one now under construction is a new mess hall for the use of the additional men who will report here September 25 in the college department.

LEG BROKEN IN AUTO COLLISION

Charles Caswell of Rye was injured on Sunday forenoon on Vaughan street when, while riding a motorcycle, he collided with an automobile owned and driven by Capt. C. P. Wyatt.

Caswell attempted to pass the automobile when his machine skidded and ran into the rear of the automobile. He was thrown off and broke his leg. He was taken to the Portsmouth hospital by Capt. Wyatt and treated. His machine was badly damaged.

THE LANE

The following entitled "The Lane" written by the Rev. Roland D. Sawyer in the Exeter News-Letter will touch a sympathizing cord in the heart of every rural born reader of this paper:

"The Lane" is the olden name we gave to the little country road that runs from before my boyhood home to our field a quarter-mile away. In all my life it has been a most glorious bit of road. It was a delight to me in boyhood, and now for 11 years it has connected my summer camp and the home of my parents. No matter which way I am going, at the other end is a spot that beckons me with promise of joy.

But "The Lane" is a bit of road, of natural beauty, it would delight anyone. There is a sweet-smelling pasture swamp on either side and beautiful stately trees line the road. There the birds are always singing, it is a favorite place for the grass-hopper and butterfly, and the insect chorus by night. I often stop as I come out from the pasture by Strout's blacksmith shop, and looking both up and down, I say to myself in rapture, "How glorious this is." Midway from camp to the home is the brook, my boyhood play-place; there frogs sound their deep bass and turtles climb into the sun as in former days. The lane is an old way; the first settlers cut it through to give them a path through "hog-pen farm" to the township, by the Great Pond; many feet have trod this ground, but none ever loved it as myself.

GRIP ON THE INCREASE IN THIS VICINITY

The epidemic of grip which is so prevalent in and around Boston, apparently is getting a foothold in this city. There has been a number of cases reported to the Public Health Department from Kittery and Kittery Point and local physicians report that it is very much on the increase in this city.

Some of the local physicians who have several cases, principally among navy yard workers, say that it is just the old fashioned grip, nothing Spanish about the brand that is working in this city. So prevalent has the disease become, however, that the Public Health Department at Washington has issued a warning about it. They recommend plenty of air, a good night's sleep, good food and lots of it and avoid people who are coughing and sneezing. In other words keep your health such that the germs will not find a foothold. A run down system is a mark and breeding place for every kind of a germ.

There are some cases among the enlisted men at the navy yard, a dozen or more, but nothing like what exists in Boston and at Camp Devens, where upwards of 2000 were reported ill with the disease.

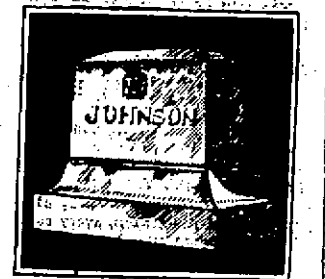

Another caution issued by the physicians is, don't try and fool yourself into the belief that you can shake it off if it once gets going. Be sensible, go to bed and call a physician, if taken in time it can be broken up in a few days; if neglected it may mean weeks and pneumonia is liable to follow.

REGISTRATION NOT EXCEEDING ESTIMATE

Washington, Sept. 15.—Returns from more populous sections of the country received by the Provost Marshal General's office today indicated that the man power registration Thursday had not run so far above the 13,000,000 estimate as appeared probable yesterday.

New York, on the basis of partial and incomplete returns, will show only about ninety-six per cent of the advance estimate, and Chicago and Detroit also are reporting fewer men of the eighteen to twenty-one and thirty-two to forty-five classes than they were estimated to have.

Local boards were instructed today not to mail out until October 12 questionnaires to subjects of Great Britain and Canada who registered September 12. The British and Canadians have thirty days in which to enter their own armies before becoming liable to the military service of the United States.

Following out its notice of yesterday to railroad executives took exemption for all skilled men, the Railroad Administration ordered local depots arranged where union officials and minor executives will assist employees in filling out questionnaires to present the exemption claims properly.

SAVE YOUR CLOTHING FOR THE BELGIANS

Washington, Sept. 15.—A second campaign for clothing for the ten million men, women and children in occupied parts of Belgium and France will be conducted by the American Red Cross during the eight days beginning September 22. In requesting that this drive be made the Commission for Relief in Belgium said that at least five thousand tons of clothing will be required to keep these people warm during the coming winter.

Garments of every kind for both sexes and all ages are needed, said the appeal, together with piece goods that can be made into sheets, blankets and baby clothes. Only garments of strong materials will be accepted. Prospective donors were reminded that it will not be necessary to mail the garments as the repair work will give employment to the thousands of destitute women in the occupied regions to which the clothing will be sent.

"Every householder in the land," said the appeal, "has some spare clothing, worn or outgrown, of little value here, but desperately needed by the destitute there. These people have been reduced to fashioning garments from flour sacks, old blankets, sheets and tablecloths and shoes from scraps of carpet and lute cases. Everywhere the need for blankets is tremendous. Hospitals and other institutions suffer for want of sheets. In some places whole families sleep together to share a single blanket."

MANCHESTER WORKERS WANT RAILROAD TRAIN HERE

The board of commerce and the city authorities of Manchester in the person of Acting Mayor Corbin are getting right after the proposed workmen's train for the accommodation of workers at the Newington and Portsmouth shipyards. Some action of the kind appears necessary, for it is reported that, owing to the housing conditions at Portsmouth and the profiteering methods of Portsmouth landlords and boarding house keepers, who are accused of working their beds even on a three-shift schedule, the government will make no contracts with the plants there after those now in process are completed.

The acting mayor, as one method of securing action, has written to the New Hampshire congressmen, urging them to take the matter up with the Washington authorities to see if something cannot be done. Such a train would not only help out the workmen in giving them a chance to get home each day, but would go far toward securing the government the skilled and unskilled labor which is needed, and which does not flock there, owing to housing conditions. Says the acting mayor: "The government is running the railroads, and shipbuilding is a government work. I cannot see why there should not be a co-ordination of the work for the good of all."

A plan is on foot to secure a meeting of representatives of the board of commerce, the city government, the shipbuilding contractors and the federal employment director, James K. Sawyer, in Franklin. In order that such an arrangement may be made, and a train for workers on government contracts may be put on a commutation basis, as a guarantee for such a train it is said that about $123 per day would have to be guaranteed, with a monthly ticket fare of about $15. Some estimates are that 500 men would take advantage of such a train, which would mean $7500 a month, and give the government a good margin for profit, besides securing a more stable and contented set of workmen. The board of commerce, and Mr. Corbin are very much in earnest on the proposition and have strong hopes of being able to accomplish something. — Manchester Mirror.

ELECTRIC CARS COLLIDE IN THICK FOG

Two electric cars on the Portsmouth, Dover and York electric road came together in a head-on collision on the Dover branch, near Elliot depot, on Sunday evening. One passenger received a broken leg.

The ten o'clock car out of Dover for Portsmouth, well filled with passengers, was running at a good rate of speed, when out of the fog near the Elliot depot, came another car. Both motorists saw each other at the same time and made frantic efforts to stop their cars, but the rails were wet and they came together with considerable force.

James Carroll, employed at the Atlantic Corporation, was sitting on the front seat and his legs were pinned down by the crushed dashboard and one leg was fractured. Other passengers were more or less bruised and shaken up, but there were no serious injuries.

Mr. Carroll was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance from this city. The car from Portsmouth, it is claimed, ran by the siding.

THE HERALD HEARS

That the lady barber has not arrived in Portsmouth yet, but the female tonorial artist will be with us soon.

That the total draft registration of Dover on Thursday was 1673.

That the estimate for that city was 1387.

That Stratford County had a total of 4471 or 306 more than the government's estimate.

That Kittery and Kittery Point divers were numerous on the road Sunday, regardless of gas saving request of the fuel administration.

That a whiskey funeral is the latest in Detroit.

That although the cortage had all the appearance of corpse and mourners, Old John Harleycorn was not going to be buried.

That when the parade reached the outskirts of the city and turned towards Elmwood cemetery the city physician came along and gave the funeral the once-over.

That he thought it queer that the two motor cars following the hearse contained no female mourners, nobody but silent, sad-faced men.

That the physician held up the funeral and asked if the party had a death certificate and burial permit.

That they became alarmed and the physician got wise.

That he demanded to see the body.

That all the mourners protested against opening the casket.

That they said it was sacrilegious but the physician opened up the box and pushed the lid aside.

That there was no dead man within but simply 21 quarts of whiskey.

That the sheriffs then took charge of the funeral and brought Old Harleycorn, hearse, coffin, flowers and mourners back to Monroe.

That it cost them $50 each for the sad expressions and affection they carried while trailing the flower-covered casket of Mr. Hardware.

That the old straw lid was put away this season as never before.

That it didn't get the ash barrel or the fire.

That unless the Kaiser goes where the signs on automobiles direct him, the old hat may look good to more than one of us next summer.

That there will be no cut rates to the

DOG FRIGHTENS

BURGLARS AWAY

Failed to Get Into Whalley Residence on Dennett Street.

Either the arrival of Miss Lucy Whalley at her home at 923 Dennett street shortly after 9 o'clock on Saturday night, or the barking of a dog in the house, prevented burglars from ransacking the residence of Mirace Whalley on that date.

Miss Whalley returning from town entered the house and went direct to the pantry where she found the window had been forced open. She called one of the neighbors who went through the building and found nothing missing. Miss Whalley believes that the dog was on the job.

A few more good dogs in that section and other parts of the city would not be out of place.

FIRST WOUNDED PORTSMOUTH BOY HOME ON LEAVE

FIRST WOUNDED.

Sergeant Jack Leary, the first Portsmouth boy injured on the battlefield of France, arrived at his home on Sunday on a furlough of 10 days from the army base hospital at Lakewood, N. J.

Sergeant Leary carries the wounds inflicted by the Hun bullets and gas on March 14 in a raid at Lorraine. He was injured while working in the trenches with the First Engineers Battalion, and was under treatment several months in France at the American base hospital.

Jack is slowly improving but plainly shows the effects of a year and four days' service in the American army battling for the world's freedom.

He received a warm welcome in every quarter and talks with excellent recollection of the scenes and actions on the French battlefields. He has no end of praise for the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the work of the K. of C. The American soldier and those of the Allied army can never forget these organizations for the gallant service rendered.

The American doctors and chaplains are doing wonderful work among the men, not alone in hospitals and camps, but in the first line trenches everywhere.

—Adv.

GREATER HARBOR MOVEMENT BOOMING

The Herald feels more than pleased with the way the Portsmouth Greater Harbor movement has been received up the state.

The Manchester Union has a page article from the pen of President P. P. Lyons of the State Manufacturers Association in which he makes pleasing reference to the Greater Portsmouth Harbor as a World Harbor. It is one of the captions. The proposition will be further boosted at the meeting of State Bankers to be held this week.
